DEPUTY COLLECTORS MAY GO.

Forty-One Internal Revenue Men in Virginia Affected by Ruling.

Washington, July 17.—The way is now open for the ousting of the Republican deputy collectors of internal revenue and replacing them with Democrats who measure up to the required standard of efficiency under the Wilson administration.

It was developed that Republican deputy collectors of Internal revenue in Virginia, who were placed under the protection of the civil service by President Roosevelt in 1906, have not a strong hold on their jobs. Under a ruling of the administration, the terms of these officeholders expire with the term of the collector, and it is optional with the new collector whether or not the old deputies are retained. Forty-one deputy collectors in Virginia are affected by this ruling.

Announcement was made by the civil service commission yesterday that civil service examinations for the creation of an eligible list for the internal revenue service will be held in Virginia August 16, at the following places: Fredericksburg, Newport News, Danville, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Staunton, Charlottesville, Petersburg, Richmond, Abingdon, Alexandria, and Winchester.

The eligible list will be composed of the present deputies, who will top it, and the men who take these examinations. They will rank next to the present deputies in accordance with their averages.

The new collectors of internal revenue of the two Virginia districts when they take up their duties, may, if they desire, select from the eligible list, men for their deputies. The collection cannot appoint men not on list. Persons desiring to take the examinations should file applications with the civil service commission by August 11th.

This announcement will have a bombshell effect among the forty-one deputy collectors of internal revenue in Virginia. It has been claimed that they had a fast hold on their jobs as long as no charges of misconduct were proven against them. The interpretation of the administration of the executive order, placing these men under the civil service, knocks the props from their claim. It does not mean, however, that the incoming Democratic collectors will be able to pick any of their friends for the jobs. It does mean that the men selected must stand a test of efficiency.

The Republican deputies were not required to stand a civil service examination when they were placed in the classified service by Roosevelt.

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT.

Young Woman Foils Negro Fiend Biting His Fingers

Ellicott City, Md., July 17.—Miss Beatrice Schillinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schillinger, of this town, was seized by a negro about 8 A. M., yesterday and dragged into the cellar at the Lutheran parsonage, which is unoccupied.

When the man placed his fingers in her mouth to prevent her screaming she bit them. The pain caused him to release her and she ran out of the cellar and to the house of Dr. Wm. N. Casaway. Chief of Police Julius Wosch, Jr., was notified. From the description of the negro given by Miss Schillinger, Clayton Johnson was arrested. The young woman identified him.

Johnson was taken before her in company with another colored man being held in the Howard county jail, and she was asked which man grabbed her. She did not hesitate, but picked out Johnson, and asked to see his left hand. When she examined the middle finger and the one next to it, she pointed to the teeth marks and blood there.

Johnson claimed that he had mashed the finger putting up a wire fence last Saturday, but Dr. Miller examined the marks carefully and said that they were teeth marks recently made.

Miss Schillinger is suffering badly from the shock, and her neck is badly bruised and skinned.

There is a great deal of excitement here and there is some talk of lynching.
